ASKING FOR A PERMANENT INJUNCTION. There was a hearing before Judge Clement in the City Court yesterday on the motion of the Cooper Glue Company to make permanent the injunction restraining the city from interfering with its business on Newtown Creek. The company was represented by John E. Parsons, ex-Secretary Tracy, ex-City Judge Reynolds and ex-County Judge Troy. The entire Corporation Counsel's office appeared for the city. Then the city began criminal proceedings under the Shields act, but the factory had compiled with that act. The action of the city in closing the factory was in violation of the judgment of the court. To make a case, the putting of lime in fresh animal matter was ordered to be stopped, and then complaints were made of the odors. The company had removed its bone-bolling and fat-rendering business. Judge Clement asked why the case could not be Judge Clement asset why tried at once, and Assistant Corporation Counsel Gilbert said it would take him twenty-five days to prepare for trial. Counsel for the factory said it would only take their side five days. Decision was reserved. The Grant Jury will probably indiet the factory as a nulsance on Friday.

The Porte will regret the approaching replacing of Mr. Thompson, the Minister of the United States of America. A man of very concinatory spirit, by another American diplomatist. Mr. Thompson does not want to remain at Constantinople, and he has already asked, it is said, to be transferred somewhere else, or to be relieved from his office. In fact, the Ministers of America here have no other diplomatic cares but those which are given them by the American missions, which number now 20,000 pupils, boys and girls, in Minor Asia. These excessive cares and the fact that the Turkish Government is extending its surveillance upon these missions in recent years, were not calculated to keep Mr. Thompson upon the shores of the Bosphorus. The honorable Minister wants to leave us, for which there is a deep regret in official circles, where his integrity and his modera-tion were so highly appreciated.
